

Don't Be Bullied by your Job Agent!

As a Newstart recipient, you have rights.

However, Employment Agencies avoid informing you of these rights so they can force you to do what makes them money.

For this reason, it's important to get informed about your rights so you can protect yourself against money-hungry Employment Agencies.

The Australian Unemployed Workers' Union is here to help.

Turn over this page for some tips.

BEING FORCED ONTO WORK FOR THE DOLE?

If you do not want to Work for the Dole, inform your job agent that you would prefer to do another approved activity. These activities include voluntary work, part-time study or training. Additionally, if you earn an income that reduces your Newstart payment, by law you are ineligible for Work for the Dole

BEING THREATENED WITH A PENALTY?

If you are being threatened with a penalty, you should always ask your job agent to provide official government documentation justifying this.

BEING PRESSURED TO SIGN A JOB PLAN?

Under the law, you are not required to sign your job plan immediately. By law you can only be penalized after your second refusal to sign. This gives you the right to take your plan home and look it over carefully

WANT TO CHANGE EMPLOYMENT PROVIDERS?

There are a number of situations where you can change Providers. For example if you change address, have a relationship breakdown with your agent, or believe you can be better serviced elsewhere, by law you can request to change providers. Ask us how!
